

let us know how you can help?

volunteer

Consider volunteering at a show. Shows are a huge amount of work, and there's always a job for a willing body to do. You can learn a lot, and make valuable horse contacts. You will also be part of making everybody's fun day possible.

farm tour

Share your expertise and love for your horses with newcomers. A first-time experience that is pleasurable and friendly is often the beginning of a long-term relationship with the Arabian breed. You can make that possible by sharing your knowledge about the Arabian horse with interested visitors of all ages and equine backgrounds.

lesson program

Give us details of your lesson programs. It's so important as riders grow that they are taught the basics of both riding and caring for their horse by experienced members of the horse community.

be a mentor

Share your expertise with a new generation of Aurora members, many of whom may not be horse owners at first. Program designed to enhance the knowledge and drive the passion of new members so they have a positive experience by connecting potential owners and novices with more experienced Arabian enthusiasts. Starting new members out on the right path.

youth program

The goal is to motivate an enthusiasm for Arabian horses for recreation, sport and companionship. Help plan fun and educational activities for our youth throughout the year, and foster a community spirit so that everyone feels at home in the Arabian world.

horsemanship

Maybe you offer the ultimate workshop in Horsemanship and "horse whispering". Tell us how the horses share their highly effective methods of communication, their "natural leadership".

breeding

Educate others on how extremely rewarding and well worth the effort breeding can be. Share how the research of dam and sire lines can be a compelling, sometimes addictive pastime.

trainers

Share your passion about helping those new to the show ring find the guidance, leadership and confidence needed to have a safe and successful experience.
